What information do we collect about you?

We collect information about you when you enter into the Commissioners grant bidding process or enter into a contract for the provision of services. We also collect information when you register with us to participate in events and activities, voluntarily complete surveys, provide feedback to consultations, or contact us in relation to an application, complaint or enquiry against Bedfordshire Police or the Chief Constable of Bedfordshire Police. Website usage information is collected using cookies.

Where necessary, the OPCC may request and hold sensitive personal data in order to carry out our legal functions 'in the exercise of official authority'. This covers public functions and powers that are set out in law; or to perform a specific task in the public interest that is set out in law.

How will we use the information about you?

We may collect information about you to process your enquiry, manage your bid and contract and, if you agree, to email you about other events and activities that we think may be of interest to you.

We use information about you in order to carry out our official functions or public tasks that are set out in law, mainly the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act 2011. For example, when a complaint is made against the Chief Constable, the Commissioner's Office will retain and process the personal information shared with us in order to carry out the lawful public task of investigating this complaint. The OPCC will also respond quickly to share any personal information with Bedfordshire Police when it relates to a risk to life or the need to protect and safeguard the public.

In order to process any complaint or issue of dissatisfaction raised against Bedfordshire Police, its officers and staff, the Commissioner is required to share relevant personal information with Bedfordshire Police Force to ensure that the complaint is looked into and to meet our public task - (e) Public task: the processing is necessary for you to perform a task in the public interest or for your official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law.

We may pass on your personal information to Bedfordshire Police Force (including where necessary the parts of Bedfordshire Police Force that are collaborated with Hertfordshire and Cambridgeshire Constabularies) so that they may offer you a response to any enquiry of an operational nature, or a response to a complaint or issue of dissatisfaction.

Information on how Complaints are processed by the OPCC is available on our website here: Complaints policy

In processing any bid for a contract to provide services, we may share your details with the Bedfordshire Police Force and send your information to credit reference agencies and fraud prevention agencies.

How long will we keep your information for?

In general, we will keep personal information only for as long as we need it. This means that we will delete or destroy it when it is no longer needed. The Commissioner has a legal obligation to retain some data in connection with the statutory obligations of the Police and Crime Commissioner as a public authority. Further information on how and when we will retain or delete data is available via our website here: Record Management, Retention and Disposal Policy
